

THE FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Publisher. A WEEKLY PAPER—DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND SOCIETY NEWS. TERMS: $1.00 In Advance.
Volume XIV. FRANKFORT, KY., DECEMBER 6, 1890. Number 13

Jett.
Miss Lillie Gibson has just returned from a visit to Shelby county.
Mrs. Sallie Connell, of Oldham county, and Mr. William Winstead, of Tusculum, Ala., are visiting friends here.
Philip Goins, son of Sanford Goins, Jr., was recently thrown from a mule and had his arm broken.
Mr. Pat Newman, a locomotive engineer of the Ohio Valley R. R., is visiting his parents, and expects soon to accept a position on the Louisville Southern.
Farmers are complaining of the depredations of the crows. It is said that in some instances they eat the corn as fast as it is shucked. We know one man who, with loaded gun, watches his wheatfields to prevent them from taking up the grain.
Madam Rumor reports a baby wedding near Ducker at Christmas, in which a betrothal ring would be figured. God help the child.
Receipt for making a small boy happy: Talk to him about dogs, guns and Sheelton ponds.
The warehousemen express no alarm when they hear the reverberating thunders from the camps of the farmers, and yet we have never seen a set of men so anxious to explain their position.
A lady not far from Jett, feeling aggrieved over reputed slanderous utterances of a male acquaintance, procured a pistol, and took a pair of shots at him. He escaped by a liberal distribution of "heel dust."
We note in the proceedings of the Tobacco Growers' Convention at Lexington it was agreed that any citizen, though not a grower of tobacco, may hold stock in the proposed association. We beg leave to demur. If such a rule is adopted, the Warehousemen can and will furnish money to disreputable parties, who will buy up the stock to be controlled by the Warehousemen, and the purchases, involving a consideration for their part in the transaction; thus a controlling influence can and may be purchased by the Warehousemen, and the growers but growers have stock, but let all bona fide growers, land owners, tenant farmers, and laborers have as much as they want of the cash pay for. We hope the Louisville Convention will reconsider this matter.
On sick list Mrs. Nora Darnell and Mrs. Mary E. Quinn. BULLDOGS.
The laws of health are taught in the schools; but not in a way to be of much practical benefit and are never illustrated by living examples, which in many cases might easily be done. If some scholar who had just contracted a cold was brought before the school, so that all could hear the dry, loud cough and know its significance, see the thin white coating on the tongue and later on, as the cold developed, see the profuse watery expectoration and thin watery discharge from the nose, not one of them would ever forget what the first symptoms of a cold were. The scholar should then be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely, that all might see that even a severe cold could be cured in one or two days, or at least greatly mitigated, when properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear. This remedy is famous for its cures of coughs, colds and croup. It is made especially for these diseases and is the most prompt and reliable medicine known for the purpose, 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle. 13-1j

Haydon's Mill.

L. W. Demaree, of Dry street, was in Louisville Thursday on business.

Mr. P. C. Skelton, who has been in feeble health the past summer, we are sorry to say, is no better.

The Farmers' Alliance are doing a prosperous business at their Lodge at Graves' School-house. They meet every Thursday night, and most generally initiate three or four new members.
Oscar Beckley, Leslie Beckley and Willie Ellis attended the show at Oakland School-house Monday night.
Miss Mary Graves, of Jacksonville, was the guest of Miss Lillie Fishback Monday night last.
Madame Rumor predicts a wedding in high life near here at an early date. There's many a slip between the cup and the lip, but we believe the Madame is about right this time, at least there is an old gentleman frequently seen in these portions, and he makes no secret of his intention. We only ask the old gentleman, if he takes our girl, to be good to her. Good-bye, my darling, I will call again, you bet.
R. P. Thompson, of Lebanon Ridge, was through here Tuesday.
Mrs. Cummings has moved to Louisville, where she will make her future home.
Tommy, don't you go, Tommy, oh, Tommy, don't you go, you never will return again, Tommy. Perhaps I will.
The ROUNDABOUT is always a welcome visitor at this place.
IT MATTERS NOT WHO.
Failure in Life.
People fail in many ways. In business, in morality, in religion, in happiness, and in health. A weak heart is often an unexpected cause in failure in life. If the blood does not circulate properly in the lungs, there is shortness of breath, asthma, etc.; in the brain, dizziness, headache, etc.; in the stomach, wind, pain, indigestion, faint spells, etc.; in the liver, torpidity, congestion, etc. Pain in the left side, shoulder and stomach is caused by heart strain. For all these maladies Dr. Miles' New Cure for the heart and lungs is the best remedy. Sold, guaranteed and recommended by J. W. Gayle, Frankfort, Ky. Treatise free. 3

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.
Nerve.
There is nothing like it. It is the foundation of all action. The man of Nerve is a success. The man without it is a failure. Many men and women are overworked, suffering with nervous prostration and longing for something to restore them again to vigor and health. There is one medicine that will accomplish the desired result. Dr. Hale's Household Tea cures nervous prostration, making the weak strong and gives nature a jog by putting a new organ of the system into a healthy condition. It is the finest remedy known. Dr. Hale's Household Tea, the great Blood Purifier and Nerve Tonic, is sold at 25 and 50c at Phil. Carpenter's South Side drug store. 2
Everything Else Failed.
I am now 25 years old, and from the time I was seven years of age until 1885, suffered with a severe case of Scrofula. During this time I took every known remedy, but to no purpose. My father took me to North Carolina, where I was put under the treatment of an eminent physician. The medicines given me had only a temporary effect, for shortly after my return the Scrofula broke out in a more malignant form, and I was worse off than ever before. In 1885 I discontinued taking all other medicines and commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). I took a number of bottles and it cured me. I have been free from Scrofula from that time until now. T. A. SIZEMORE, Piedmont, S. C.
Restored Her Health.
For 25 years I suffered from Bolls, Erysipelas, and other blood affections, taking during that time great quantities of different medicines without deriving any perceptible relief. Friends induced me to try Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). It improved me from the start, and after taking several bottles restored my health as far as I could hope for at my age, which is now 75 years. There will be a large congregation out to hear him.

Giving Them Away.

In order to induce their customers to use flour, put up in paper sacks, Messrs. Miles & Son have adopted the plan of presenting each purchaser of a sack filled with their J. E. Their flour is among the best made and you get the full value of your money with the present thrown in. Read their advertisement in another column.

CURED AFTER SIX YEARS.

To whom it may concern—I hereby certify that I have tried many great physicians (by reputation) in the large cities in the west, and for six years sought for one skillful enough to cure my daughter of a nervous disease, but without success. I was then induced to try the Rev. E. Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., who was reported as being very successful in treating diseases of this character, and I am pleased to say that by his skillful treatment my daughter was in a short time completely cured, and he refused to accept any compensation for his services. I cheerfully recommend him to any parties needing his services. My daughter and myself will ever hold the reverend gentleman in grateful remembrance.

LIFE'S FITFUL FEVER ENDED.

Elder Philip S. Fall Having Passed Four Score Years and Ten, Gently Falls Asleep.

About 12 o'clock on Tuesday night Rev. Philip S. Fall, the venerable servant of God, faintly and sweetly passed from earth to the glorious beyond, after a long life spent in the faithful service of the Master. His death was the result of a cold taken about two weeks ago at the cemetery, whither he went to visit the grave of his wife. He was only confined to bed about ten days, and it seemed for a time that his remarkably vigorous constitution would triumph over disease, but his strength and vitality failed and it soon became evident to him that his end was near. He awaited the coming of the messenger to call him home with calm resignation, and his mind was perfectly clear to the last. Through Rev. George Darsie he sent a message of love to the congregation of the Christian Church on Sunday morning; he selected the same passage of Scripture which was read at his funeral several years ago to be read at his funeral, and requested that the obsequies be postponed for three days after his death, that his friends might be given an opportunity to see how he last appeared in life.

No man was ever more beloved by his Church, his friends and the community generally than was Mr. Fall. Contemporary and co-laborer with Alexander Campbell, he was one of the founders of the Christian Church, and his life was devoted to the upbuilding. Mr. Fall was born on the 8th of September, 1798, in Brighthelm, England. He came to Kentucky in the autumn of 1817, then in his nineteenth year. He had received excellent educational advantages, and soon after locating in this State he established an Academy near this city. His early religious training had been that of an Episcopalian, but in 1818 he united with the Baptist Church and in December of the following year he was licensed as a minister of that denomination, and in 1820 was ordained. In 1821 he married Miss Annie Bacon, daughter of a distinguished citizen of this county and in the autumn of that year, and during the following year, he visited Louisville at frequent intervals in the interest of the small Baptist Church then existing in that city, and in January, 1823, he accepted its pastorate. In 1826 he removed to Nashville, Tenn., where he accepted a chair in the then celebrated Female Academy, and at the same time became pastor of a newly established but influential Baptist Church. Here he labored for five and a half years. His health having become very poor, Mr. Fall now returned to Kentucky, settling upon an estate he had purchased near this city. Here he established the Female Eclectic Institute, which he conducted with great success for twenty years; then he removed the Institute to this city where it was prosperously maintained for six years. During these twenty-six continuous years as an educator Mr. Fall was also engaged in preaching, and that, too, without pecuniary compensation.

In 1832 Mr. Fall, having withdrawn from the Baptist Church, organized the Christian Church in this city, the original members numbering only seven; of those seven he was the last, and the status of the Christian Church of Frankfort, as it is to-day in point of membership, attendance, church edifice, etc., bespeak the fact that the seed sown in 1832 did not find a resting place upon barren ground.

In 1857 the congregation of Christ in Nashville earnestly desired and sought for his pastoral services. His inclinations, rather than his interests, prompted him to yield to the solicitations of the church, for whose welfare he labored for nineteen years. Then at the age of seventy-eight, he resigned and returned to his old home, but for the past three years he had lived here in the city. Occasionally the venerable old man has preached since coming here, his last sermon having been delivered last September on the occasion of his 93rd birthday. The remains were taken to the Christian Church Wednesday, where they lay in state until yesterday morning, and were viewed by scores of those who loved him in life. The funeral took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, the services being conducted by Revs. George Darsie and Thos. N. Arnold.

Birthday Party.

Miss Nannie Morgan gave a birthday party Monday night, at which a number of her young friends were present. All enjoyed themselves very much until a late hour.

A Recruit Enlisted.

We have been trying for several years to enlist the good people of this city and county in a warfare against the wholesale bribery at elections, which has become a shame and disgrace to this community, but our efforts seem to have been vain. We are glad to see that the editor of the Argus, in his issue of Thursday, comes out strongly in favor of enforcing the law against every man who undertakes to buy votes at the election to-day. Now if the other papers of the city and all good citizens will join with us in this crusade, we will endeavor to have some of the gentlemen who openly violate the statute which prohibits the buying of votes behind the bars. It is a gigantic evil which must be suppressed. It is a crying shame. We up, good men, go to the polls to-day and spot every man you see using money and report his name to the next grand jury, and let's see if we can not make an example of some fifteen or twenty of the men who have for years made a practice of corrupting the poor and ignorant voters at the city elections. This thing has gone on so long that the best men of the city will not allow their names to be used as candidates for Councilmen because they do not want to be compelled to buy the positions. Move on the works of these buyers and sellers of voters to-day and drive them from the city.

Where Does the Glory Come In?

Nine men will to-day buy their way into the City Council, or their seats will be bought for them. They will not receive a cent from the city for their services during the next two years, and not a man of them, if he is honest, can make a cent out of his office; and there is not one of them, even if he discharges his duty faithfully, but will be roundly cursed by his constituents. What honor is there in a position that is obtained by corruption and bribery? Three years hence who will remember that either of the men who are elected, or rather buy in, to-day every vesting the city as a Councilman?

Wrist Broken.

Mrs. Henry Culter, while walking in the yard at home, on the corner of Main and Cross streets, Saturday morning of last week, stepped upon a plank covered with frost, slipped and fell to the ground, breaking the small bone of her left wrist. She is quite an old lady and the injury will prove a serious inconvenience to her for some time.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 6, 1890.

Plans Made.

S. W. Easley, of 423 St. Clair street, has just completed the plans for a $2,500 residence, to be built at Beattyville, Ky.; also plans for a stock barn, 47x80 feet, for Mr. Delle Walcutt.

Suspended.

The board of Steamboat Inspectors at Louisville have suspended the captain and pilot of the Steamer Bob Ballard for fifteen days, on account of a collision with another boat on the Ohio river a week or so ago.

Court Day.

The crowd in town on Monday at court was large but the business done on the street was light. Henry Showalter, auctioneer, reports the following sales: 12 head of calves at $8.00 per head; 4 mules at $171 per head; 3 cows, $14, $18 and $23; 6 head of horses, $24, $32, $69, $75, $84 and $16; 4 head of cattle, $12-40 per head; sow and pigs, $10.

Dry House Burned.

About five o'clock Wednesday evening a fire broke out in the roof of the dry kiln of Messrs. P. S. Rule & Co.'s saw-mill on East Second street. The kiln was burned, together with about 3,500 feet of lumber, which was in it at the time, but the mills and stacks of lumber were saved by the fire department. The loss is about $1,000, fully covered by insurance.

Bought a Boat.

Messrs. J. E. & J. N. Abraham have purchased the City of Clarksville, a large stern-wheel boat, which has heretofore been running in the Tennessee river trade, and have put her into the Kentucky river. She has a large carrying capacity, nice accommodations for passengers, and will make regular trips between this city and Louisville. The old reliable Jordan Preston will twirl the wheel.

The Eight O'clock Club and its Editor.

FROM "CURRENT LITERATURE," NEW YORK, DECEMBER, 1890.

D. B. Waggener, editor of our boys and girls page of the Philadelphia Times, is said to receive more visits from young people and their parents, and to have more correspondents among them, than any other editor in the country. This is due perhaps to the original way in which he has conducted his department from the start, January 1, 1885.

The direct, personal element is most noticeable in Mr. Waggener's "Chat" column. His familiar talks with his young readers are not only entertaining, but instructive, and have attracted wide-spread attention. But his unique, and most praiseworthy achievement, perhaps, is the organization of the Eight O'clock Club, of which he is the controlling spirit. It has more than 50,000 enrolled members, all boys and girls that read his page, and they live in every part of this country and in Europe.

The object of the Club is to stimulate healthful mental effort, to arouse the ambition of its members, and to reward their good work. The prize puzzle contests of the Club are unlike anything else of the kind; its silver medals and its gold and silver buttons are decorations that members prize as highly as do Frenchmen the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The Club has all the accessories that make such things attractive—the button; its colors, crimson and gold; its motto, Semper ad Profectum; its flower, the crimson carnation; its pets, Dan and Beauty, the young lions at the Philadelphia Zoological Garden, whose names were given to them by a vote of the Club, Dan having been named after the editor.

In January of every year The Times provides a grand entertainment for the Club at the Academy of music in Philadelphia.

Mr. Waggener has no assistance of any kind in his department. He is a Kentuckian, but has lived in the East since 1871.

Mr. Waggener is an old Frankfort boy and a brother of Messrs. J. L. and W. H. Waggener, of this city.

A son of Mr. M. D. Puseer, a merchant of Gibraltar, N. C., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism for a year or more, as to be unable to work or go to school. His father concluded to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm on the boy. It soon cured him and he has since walked one and a half miles to school and back every school day. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Council Proceedings.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

FRANKFORT, Dec. 2, 1890. Present—President Smith, Councilmen Backley, Haly, Milam, Mangan and Williams. Absent—Councilmen Tobin, Miles and Wakefield.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The committee appointed to look over the ordinances of the city, to see that they had been properly compiled, made their report and recommended that they be published. The report of the street committee on the plank walk was received, and Mr. Pevler's bill for building same was allowed.

Mr. Thomas Brislan was appointed judge of the election in the Second Ward, instead of Mr. James Welch. Mr. E. J. Haly was appointed judge of the election in the Third Ward, instead of Capt. H. I. Todd, who is unable to attend to his duties.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned until next Tuesday, the regular meeting night. 13-1m

An Open Letter.

FRANKFORT, KY., Dec. 2d, 1890. To the citizens of Frankfort and surrounding country:

I take this method of informing my friends and patrons that I am better prepared this season to supply your needs than I have been at any time heretofore. I admit that my stock is not as complete as I would like it, but it has been selected with care, and I have a variety bought direct from first hands, which enables me to sell at bottom prices. Persons needing anything during the holiday season I invite you to call, especially those whom I have not had the pleasure of seeing in my place of business. I ask you to call; you shall have polite attention whether you are made a customer or not. I have by sobriety and strict attention to business aimed to merit a share of the public patronage, of which I have so far received a gratifying amount. I have no inducements or snags to offer, nor cater to trade on these conditions. All I ask is, that people call on me and see if my prices are not reasonable and times, as nothing but first-class goods are sold by me, at living profits. As to my work department, it has my personal care and I assure you that work entrusted to me will receive careful attention for the very least money that first-class work can be done. Thanking my friends and patrons for past favors and asking that I may be remembered in the future, I remain

Yours respectfully, W. L. COFFERSMITH.

SLEEP IN PEACE BY USING PRATTS KILLER FOR BED BUGS.

This preparation is superior to all others to the following reasons: It kills the bugs instantly. It effectually destroys their eggs, therefore it is only necessary to use it once or twice during the season. It possesses advantages over insect poisons inasmuch as it can be used in places which they can not reach. It is odorless, and it is warranted not to injure carpets, linen or furniture. No fatal effects can result from its use, as it contains no poison, which fact should give it a place in every household.

Hainline-Ledridge.

The nuptials of Miss Eddie M. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ledridge, and Mr. William R. Hainline, of Mt. Sterling, were impressively performed at the family residence upon Wednesday, at 4 p. m., by Rev. Mr. Lyons, of the first Presbyterian Church of Mt. Sterling. Many friends and relatives were present to witness the event. Promptly at the appointed hour, Miss Fannie Hainline, sister of the groom, favored the company with Mendelssohn's "wedding march." Soon the bridal party advanced into the parlor, little Anna May Peters, a handsome brunette, and little Minnie Ledridge, sister of the bride, a fairly like blonde, leading the way. They were a sweet picture of innocence, clad in quaint white and pink costumes, and as maids of honor, bearing the bride's bouquet of exquisite roses. Following came Capt. C. L. Peters and Miss Ida May Thomas, then the bride and groom. After the ceremony congratulations were showered upon the happy twain, now made one. At 8:30 the newly wedded pair departed for their future home in Mt. Sterling, Ky., where Mr. Hainline is a prominent business man and has a host of friends, who will delight to welcome the fair bride.

The bridal costume was of mauve cloth with dark salmon trimmings and corsage bouquet of marshall bell roses and sinlax. Many useful and ornamental gifts were presented. Those from abroad who attended the wedding were Misses Fannie and Mary Hainline, sisters of the groom; Miss Ida May Thomas, Capt. C. L. Peters and little daughter, Anna May, all of Mt. Sterling.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at P. H. Carpenter's Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1. 2

The following letter fully explains itself.

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 27th, 1900.

Charles O. Reynolds, Esq., Storekeeper, Lexington, Ky.
SIR: I conceive it my duty to inform you that you have been guilty of an act which but one other officer in my district has seen fit to join you in. You have passed a perfect examination on the questions that were recently submitted to you by the Department, and are deserving of sincere commendation from this office for the first-class showing you have made. Respectfully,

THOS. C. McDOWELL, Collector.
The other officer against whom the same charge was made is Major Fred Bierbower, of Maysville. Lexington Leader.

THAT TERRIBLE COUGH

In the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the first stages of consumption. Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by J. W. GAYLE, Druggist.

THE FIRST SYMPTOMS OF DEATH.

Tired feeling, dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of poisoned blood. No matter how it became poisoned it must be purified to avoid death. Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir has never failed to remove acrobulous or syphilitic poisons. Sold under positive guarantee. J. W. GAYLE, Druggist.

Rose Coghlan.

Rose Coghlan has with her this season two little children that play the parts of poor Triplet's children in "Peg Woffington." They are about 7 and 10 years old respectively, and mischievous. One night last week when it was time for Miss Coghlan to go on in the third act, where she dances the Irish jig, one of the red shoes she wears was missing.

Look where she would it could not be found. The call boy was calling "third act," the stage manager was anxious and all behind the scenes were asking, "Why don't she come?" Just at this moment the little girl came to Miss Coghlan's room and said: "See, Miss Coghlan, how pretty I have made your shoe." The little one had found a paint brush and what was once a red satin shoe was now a bright yellow, painted by the little artist. It is enough to say Miss Coghlan did not wear red shoes that night. The little one now devotes her time to the task of learning the jig and has giving up painting as an art.

Miss Coghlan will appear at the Opera House on Monday evening next, December 8, as Pig Wollington. Seats on sale at Barrett's.

Sight is Priceless.

Mr. David Norton, of St. Paul, Minn., states that his son was entirely blind and had been kept in a dark room an entire year and treated by the best physicians of the city to no purpose, and all had given him up, saying he would never be any better, when they began using what has proven to be the finest remedy in the world for the cure of inflammation, namely—Dr. Hale's Household Ointment. It was applied directly to the boy's eyes, which soon began to improve, and to-day his sight is entirely restored, and he is enjoying perfect health, owing to the use of the most wonderful remedy in the world. Dr. Hale's Household Ointment. Sold by Phil Carpenter, South Side Druggist.

ROUNDABOUT-Supplement.

VOL. XIV. . . . NUMBER 12

FRANKFORT, KY., DEC. 6, 1890.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES OF HONOR.

A Mammoth Organization Its Business Methods and Large Disbursements.

Indianapolis is the seat of many enterprises that have the country for territory, and even go beyond the sea; but it has none more unique in character than the association whose title graces this article.

Its method is not business in the sense of money-making; neither is it charity in the sense of giving alms; but has its way on the borderland between the two. That an institution of such magnitude, with larger monthly transactions in cash than the aggregate life insurance of the city, should have had its home in Indianapolis for years without public comment, argues either the largeness of our rushing city life or the exceeding modesty of the organization itself. Be the explanation what it may, the News is the first, as usual, to make public recognition of an interest contributing so largely to the importance of Indianapolis as a money center.

Viewed only in the light of a collector and disbursing of money, it claims special mention. Less than three years ago its managers located its chief offices here because Indianapolis was central to the entire country and afforded unequalled mail facilities; and since then it has disbursed through the banks of our city $1,500,000.00.

We said that it was unique in character and we believe our readers will agree with us that it is so when we have briefly sketched its history. September 7, 1877, its Supreme Lodge was founded at Louisville, Ky., and its first new lodge instituted the month following in Indianapolis. Thirteen years ago, then, the order was organized, with a membership of less than two hundred; now its official records show a membership of 67,589, with the large sum of $9,104,214.62 paid to the beneficiaries of its dead members, of which sum $100,000 has been paid to citizens of Indiana.

That this association occupies a place on the line between business and charity is evident from the fact that its transactions have no element of profit in them, except such as may be said to accrue to the whole membership in saving to them the difference between actual cost controlled by death rate and the charges of old line insurance companies that are controlled by the laws of loss and gain.

A peculiar feature about the association is that it was the first fraternal society, or other association, to admit females on a perfect equality with males as to amount of insurance and its thirteen years' experience, with a membership about equally balanced between the sexes, has demonstrated that females are a better risk than males.

The association is composed of a supreme lodge, fifteen grand lodges and 1,300 subordinate lodges; the last-named of which are variously located in States from ocean to ocean and from Canada to Texas, with a membership verging on to 68,000, representing insurance risks to the amount of $70,000,000. It has no side issues of any kind, and confines itself to the simple payment of death benefits ranging from $500 to $3,000. Its death rate averages ten to the thousand yearly, and consequently has enabled its members to carry their life insurance at $10 per $1,000.

The total amount of money disbursed through its supreme offices here during the fiscal year, from September, 1889, to September, 1890, was $866,912.58, and it may be truthfully said that in the midst of the many schemes of business that Indianapolis can boast of, an association that collects and disburses such an immense sum of money yearly, as does the Knights and Ladies of Honor, and yet so nicely adjusts its affairs as to neither have debts to be paid nor surplus to distribute as profits at the close of each year, is a novelty in business thought, yet this is the case; and the grand result is the simple exemplar of fraternal life insurance, conducted on the mutual aid lodge plan. Indianapolis News.

Zippah.

Fine weather and hog-killing is in progress.

Mrs. J. W. Rodgers, Mrs. Brack Skelton, Mrs. W. E. Thompson, Mrs. P. C. Skelton and Mrs. Stephens visited Samuel Samples last week.

A. B. R. Zilba and wife visited Allen Snook, near Shelbyville, last week.

Died, near this town, November 24th, Hamlet Harrod, after a long illness.

Mrs. Fannie Edgington, of this town, has been confined to her room for some time, and is still very sick.

Galen Jones and F. D. Jones will return from Cincinnati on the 6th of this month, after a stay of one year. They will resume the carpenter's trade on their arrival here.

Mrs. Jane Rasor, east of this place, sold her personal property at public sale and will rent her farm, move to Louisville, and engage in business there.

Scarlet fever is raging three miles north of here. Several cases, but none fatal at this writing.

The social Wednesday night, at Mrs. Margaret Jones, given in honor of Miss Maggie Hower and Miss Lullie Moore, was nice indeed.

B. L. Hleatt, of Frankfort, visited this community this week.

The six-mile gal should not mourn because Z. Graves failed to make his regular trip. Probably he will stay longer when he does come.

We wondered what caused Uncle Ben Johnson, commonly called "Buddy," of this community, to spruce up so, but it is a plain case, now, as we think he is setting his cap for some fair one to join him in wedlock.

Albert Colvin, of Louisville, is visiting friends near Lebanon.
